Authorised Representative Profile

This FSG must be read in conjunction with Part Two as it forms part of this FSG. It provides detailed information about your Adviser such as their contact details, referral sources and the types of financial products they can advise and deal in.

Please retain both Part One and Part Two for your reference and any future dealings with DJA Capital.

What other documents might you receive?

On the first occasion that we provide you with personal financial advice, you will receive a statement of advice (SoA) or, if the advice relates to amounts under certain thresholds, then you will receive a record of advice (RoA). These documents will:

- explain the advice and the basis of the advice
- Provide information about our remuneration (including commissions), and
- disclose any associations or relationships that could potentially influence us in providing the advice.

Once you have your SoA, any further ongoing personal advice that we may provide will be documented in either a further SoA or an RoA depending on the nature of the advice.

Copies of all advice documents will be retained on your client file and, if you have not already been provided with one, you may ask for a copy of these documents at any time.

We will also provide you with, or explain how to access, a product disclosure statement (PDS) issued by the product issuer for any financial product we recommend. The PDS contains information about the costs, benefits, risks and other features of the recommended financial product. To help you make an informed decision, you should read this information before purchasing any recommended financial products.

The financial services and products we offer

We can offer financial services and advice that covers the following areas:

- Wealth creation including advice on securities.
- Retirement planning including superannuation and strategies for transitioning to retirement.
- Risk management and asset protection.
- Retrenchment and redundancy advice.
- Social security/Centrelink entitlements.

From these financial services, certain kinds of financial products may be recommended to you. We can provide advice and arrange transactions on the following classes of financial products:

- Deposit and payment products;
- Government debentures, stocks or bonds;
- Life insurance products including investment life and life risk;
- Managed investment schemes (including an investor-directed portfolio service);
- Retirement savings account products;
- Securities and
- Superannuation.

Our Authorised Representatives can only provide advice on financial products that are on our approved product list. The approved product list includes a large range of investment and insurance products for which the appropriate research and analysis has been undertaken.

Our Authorised Representatives cannot advise you on, or influence you in favour of, a financial product which:

- is not on the approved product list, or
- any arrangement where your financial planner can make changes to your portfolio before obtaining your consent unless they are specifically authorised to do so, or
- Is a product on which they are not authorised to provide advice. Your financial planner's profile will outline the class of financial products on which they can advise. Alternatively, you can find details on the Australian Securities and Investment Commissions website at www.asic.gov.au

While your financial planner may conduct a separate business, for example, as an accountant, we are only responsible for the financial products and services described in this FSG and included on our approved product list.

Your financial planner is a registered tax (financial) adviser or a registered tax agent. They are authorised to provide a tax service, where the advice is:

- Provided in the context of the personal advice authorised by the licensee, and
- Part of the financial advice which interprets and applies the tax laws (including tax, superannuation and SMSF laws) to your personal circumstances.

Registered tax (financial) advisers are not authorised to provide tax agent services (ie those services in relation to the preparation and filing of tax returns and liaison with the ATO, etc).

Where tax agent services are provided (ie those services in relation to the preparation and filing tax returns, and liaison with the ATO, etc) these services constitute a separate business activity and are not provided under the licensee's

AFSL. We are only responsible for advice relating to the financial products and services described in this FSF and our Approved Product List.

Providing instructions to your financial planner

You may provide specific instructions to your financial planner by letter, email, telephone, fax or other means as agreed.

How do we and your financial planner get paid?

The fees and services that you will pay will be set out in a client service agreement or statement of advice. Generally, there are two options in the way that you can pay for the services we provide and you can discuss the option that best suits your circumstances with your financial planner. The options are:

You may be charged a financial planning advice fee based on either the time spent preparing your statement of advice (or other advice document) or the value of the funds you choose to invest.

If you choose this options, you will be invoiced for the agreed fee when you are provided with your SoA or other advice document. This fee is set by your financial planner and is detailed in the financial planner profile.

You may enter into a service agreement with your financial planner.

The service agreement is an arrangement that may cover items such as ongoing advice, newsletter updates, annual reviews and portfolio valuation reports. You and your financial planner should discuss the services to be included and the fee that you will pay and this will be set out in the service agreement provided by your financial planner either before, or at the time you are presented with your SoA.

You may have entered into an arrangement before 1 July 2013, to pay our fees out of the product in which you invest.

The product provider may pay us if:

- A. a contribution (entry) fee will be deducted by the product provider from your initial investment amount when you proceed with a transaction and also when you make any subsequent invests in the product; and/or
- B. management costs are deducted by the product provider from your account on an ongoing basis (eg monthly, quarterly or annually), and/or
- C. you agree with your financial planner to pay a financial planner service fee for ongoing advice and service in relation to your investment in certain products, and/or
- D. you are recommended risk products (eg risk insurance), then the product provider may pay commission to us based on the premium payable for that product. There may be either or both an initial and ongoing commission payable to us. Please note that while the commissions are payable based on the premium you pay, the commission's do not form part of your premium and are not an additional fee to you.

The contribution (entry) fees and management costs are normally calculated as a percentage of the relevant amount you have invested in the product. Most of these fees are paid directly to us and we then pay a portion to the relevant Authorised Representatives.

You may pay for the services by a combination of the options listed above.

For information about the fees that apply to the financial products that have been recommended, please ask your financial planner, refer to the financial planner profile and the relevant PDS. Your advice documents and fee disclosure statement will also contain full details of any fees and charges that are payable.

Any of these payments listed above will be charged by us as agreed with you or as permitted by law.

From 1 July 2014, new regulation requires your financial planner to declare whether they are a registered (tax) adviser and the tax (financial) advice service they are authorised to provide.

Additional payments

We may also receive additional commission payments from insurance providers. In some cases, your financial planner may be entitled to a portion of these payments.

If these products are recommended to you, more detail will be provided in the SoA.

Other benefits

We may be eligible to receive sponsorship in the form of cash payments from product providers listed on the approved product list. Amounts may vary per product provider. Your financial planner does not share directly in the sponsorship payments, but may benefit indirectly through the provision of subsidised conference and professional development training costs.

We may also receive additional payments from investment platform providers for arrangements entered into prior to 1 July 2013. In some cases, your financial planner may be entitled to a portion of these payments. These payments are usually based on the amount invested with the product provider. If the relevant products are recommended to you, more details about this arrangement will be provided in the SoA.

If you purchase or sell direct securities through us, we may receive a fee for these transactions. Details of which will be disclosed in either an SoA or RoA.

Your financial planner may also receive a range of other benefits from product providers such as marketing support or sponsorship, entertainment, conferences, accommodation and travel which will be disclosed in your statement of advice.

We maintain a public register outlining the forms of alternative remuneration that we both pay and receive. A copy of this register can be accessed upon request.

Any of the payments listed above will be made to the extent permitted by law.

Therefore, before acting on any advice you receive, you should consider the appropriateness of the advice and carefully read the warnings contained in the SoA before making any decisions as a result of the advice provided.

In all cases, when your financial planner provides you with an SoA and a recommendation to acquire a financial product is included, an investment report or PDS for that financial product will be provided to you.

It is important that you read and understand this document before implementing any recommendation made in the SoA. Your financial planner will readily explain any part of this document that you do not understand.
